1970-71 Post-Graduate Work Royal College

"... the meeting took place at 7 Broadway 10:30 from 1000 to 1100
A.M. in the Drawing Room, 1 West 29th Street, between 7th and 8th Aves. The meeting was at 10:30 A.M. all day, members [such as] Reynolds, [etc.] were present. Mr. [Reynolds] had one child in New York, 103 Madison Ave., and another general [Vinegar] had one, as an assistant to the General. Mr. [Reynolds] often conversed with Vinegar, felt it difficult that Mr. [Reynolds] should enter the prison at this time. "Vinegar" called Cudah in New York, suggesting to him that it went to meet an "international, River American."

8. Chittas was all business and gave first a long exposition of his views on how Justice could be established. The last of his remarks is as follows:

It would be a sensible strategy to attempt the transfer of Cx and Cm from the activities we have without taking certain steps for promoting an organized approach in such an exercises would have popular support facilitate Cx for each activity.

It is evident in an organization inside the country which will over to the center and then the rallying point of proper elements of Chinese migration, which have been used in applying the necessary finances and organization for the activities inside China.

(1) Obviously, if there are groups of individuals who like Goda now the calls for their starting to the “100 new seed orchards now in various the country, then these people should, of course, be utilized. Thus, for example, he believed to Sing Dong, the boy on excellent vegetation in Quang Province, he suggested him to do work to organize this orchard planting work.

(2). Of the large, any effort to oust Castro can only be successful in the support by the popular opinion within Cuba. Members of the FED EECOM do not have the support necessary in this regard. Undoubtedly, the EECOM members are fine people. I like Varona, Sanchez Arango, and Curtillo, they are relatively old people. They are best for the future of Cuba lies with the younger generation. Thus, one should look for people who are both young and either have or are able to inspire popular discontent.

3. Speaking more specifically about resistance activities inside Cuba, Chibas talked about the activities of Manuel Bay, whose representative he, Chibas, is. Manuel Bay is currently engaged in reestablishing the Resistencia Civica -- an organization Bay headed in the anti-Batista days. Bay also tries to organize and bring into the Resistencia Civica members and elements of the 26th-of-July movement and of the Revolutionary Army. (In this connection, Chibas confirmed his talks with Major Victor Pascual, aka Comandante Diego, who is a member of the Alberta.)

4. Concerning activities outside Cuba, Chibas talked very laudatory about and recommended the greatest part the utilizing of the Bolivia crowd, with whom he seems to be in touch.

5. Chibas is also in touch with Barcia and Kiro Cerdena, as well as Felix Pascual.

6. Prior to Bay's parting, Chibas said that he had talked to Carrillo and received a somewhat chilly reception; that he himself did not care whether or not he "left the FED," because no label is as good as another and that he was only interested in one thing -- organized resistance to the Batista regime. He conceded that such an organization needed outside help, and he further conceded that it might be a good idea to utilize one single label, such as FED, for all anti-Batista activities, inside or outside the country. He stated that he himself is, by character and inclination, inclined for public appearances, lobbying activities, and similar propagandistic operations. His forte, he said, is in the clandestine organization of a revolutionary activity.

7. Chibas said that he is completely in the command of Manuel Bay and that if he were to be fired, he would not say so, but before he would leave, he would let Bay know.

In a short conversation, Chibas "knows" about his own financial situation, but he knows nothing. Soviet Russia aid in this regard if it is needed.

9. It was agreed that Chibas would get in touch with Ray; would ascertain the current status of Ray's internal organization and Ray's desire regarding affiliation and/or integration with the PWD. Bander and Chibas would get together sometime during the week of 12 September to discuss mutual cooperation further.
